Dear Spirco,

I have been a metal building erector for over 30 years and have erected buildings from all the major manufacturers during that time.

Spirco Manufacturing fabricates a far superior building than the other metal building manufacturers I have had experience with. The materials are fabbed correctly and delivered in a timely fashion. Spirco's customer service department is excellent.

I would recommend that anyone in the market for a steel building consider Spirco for their building needs.

Regards,

Larry Liveoak
